

THE IMPACT OF MALNUTRITION IN THE US AND THE UK

Malnutrition is a cause and consequence of ill health, and a social and economic burden.

IN THE US WE KNOW THAT:¹

IN THE UK WE KNOW THAT:

2.2 million hospital stays involve malnutrition

Hospital stays involving malnutrition cost $49 billion

30 day readmissions are 1.6x higher with malnutrition compared to without it

24-30% of patients admitted to hospital are malnourished or at risk of malnutrition²

70% of patients weigh less on hospital discharge³

30-42% of patients admitted to care homes are at risk of malnutrition⁴

Most hospital stays were 2x longer with malnutrition

Malnutrition related stays have 3x higher in-hospital deaths

20%-30% of adults in the community have malnutrition or are at risk

50% of people admitted to hospital from care homes are at risk of malnutrition³

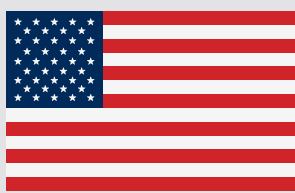

60% of carers worry about the nutrition of the person they care for⁵

The estimated cost of malnutrition in the UK is £23.4 billion⁶

OLDER PEOPLE ARE AT RISK ON BOTH SIDES OF THE ATLANTIC

One in twenty people aged 65+ are malnourished and the rate of malnutrition in hospitalized older adults is 14x higher than those aged 18-39 years.¹

One in ten (1.3 million people) people aged 65+ are malnourished or are at risk of malnutrition, and over half of all malnutrition spending is on older people.⁷
